What is the DSI?

It's the power of hundreds of dealers
answering the question...

“Are you happy
with your RV
manufacturer?”

The purchase of a recreational vehicle is a big decision for you.

You're not going to make it lightly.

With so many choices out there, don't you wish you could talk to the hundreds of people who have bought the same unit you're considering, and ask them questions like:

Do you feel like your RV is well designed and really meets your needs?

Is your RV high quality and reliable?

Do you feel like you got a great value for your money?

Does your dealer get solid support from the manufacturer?

Does your manufacturer back up its warranty claims?

Would your dealer recommend this brand to other dealers?

In other words...

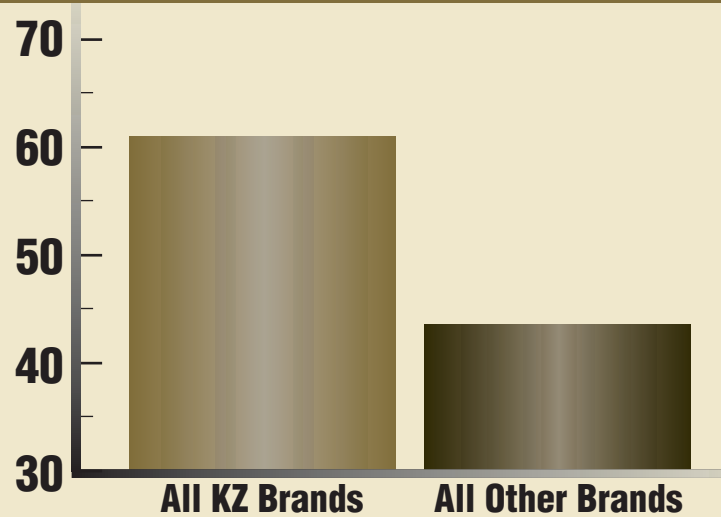

Are you happy with your RV?

Well, here's the great news... you can hear what others just like you have to say about KZ products, because of a rating system called the Dealer Satisfaction Index (known simply as "DSI.") Your dealer probably belongs to the Recreation Vehicle Dealers Association, and through this association dealers rate all the manufacturers they represent on the issues that are most important to them, such as design, overall quality, reliability, value, manufacturer support and communication.

The manufacturers who rank in the top 20% of the index are awarded the prestigious "Quality Circle Award."

Dealers are 60% more likely to recommend KZ recreational vehicles to their dealer friends over all other brands! *

On average, KZ consistently scores higher than all other towable brands in every category of the survey, including:

Vehicle Design • Vehicle Reliability & Quality • Competitive Price & Value • Warranty Support
